

Reminders of Washington in and Near the City

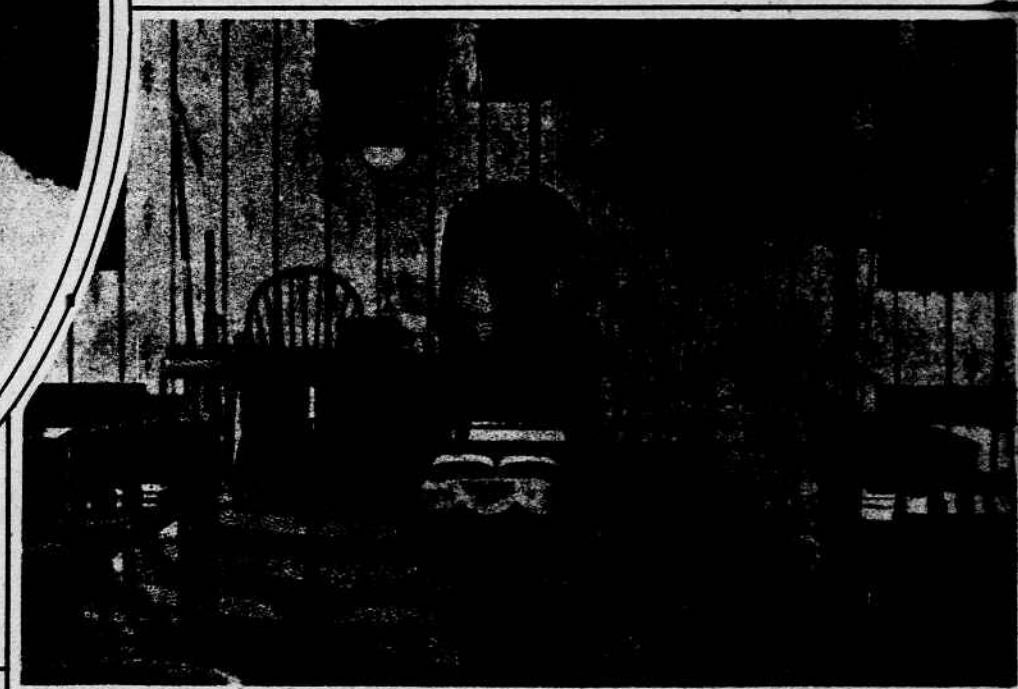

The grandest of all monuments to "The Father of His Country."

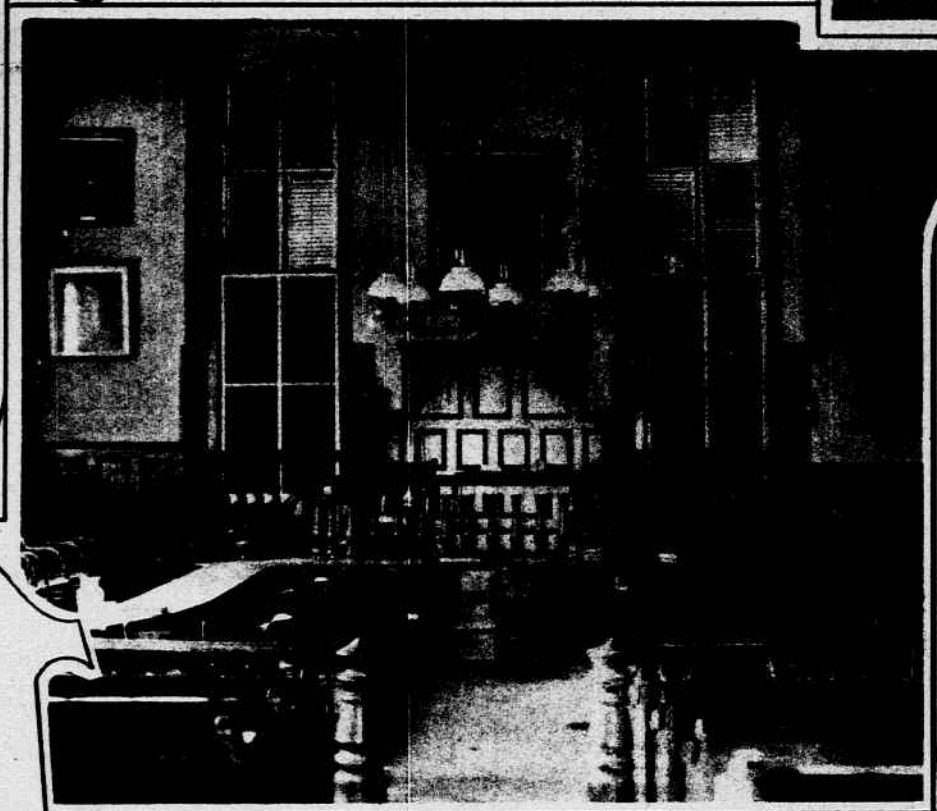

George Washington, from the Stuart portrait.

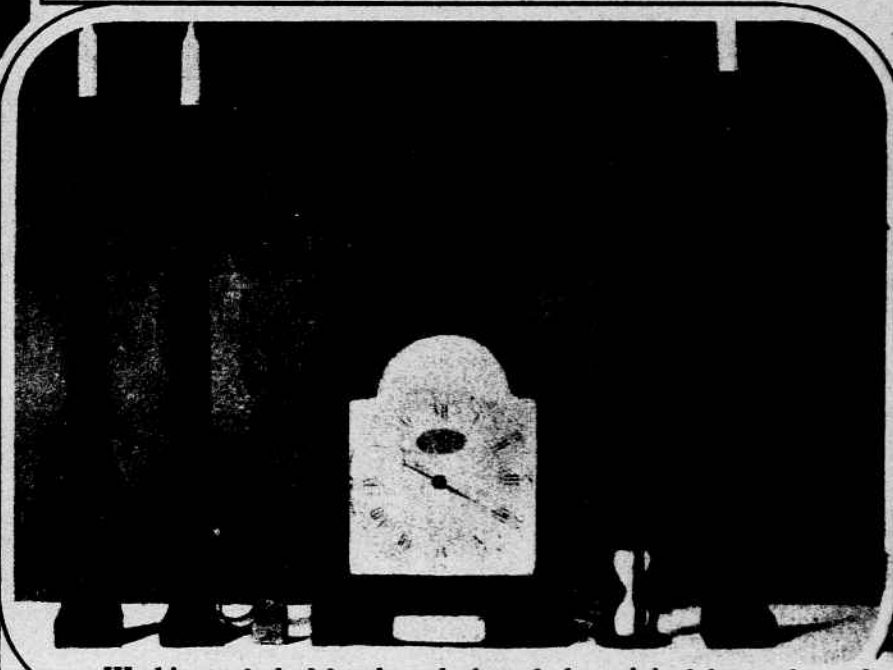

Mount Vernon, the famous home of Washington.

The old Alexandria-Washington Lodge, No. 22, A. F. and A. M., at Alexandria, Va., of which George Washington was worshipful master in 1788-89. He often sat in the big presiding chair.

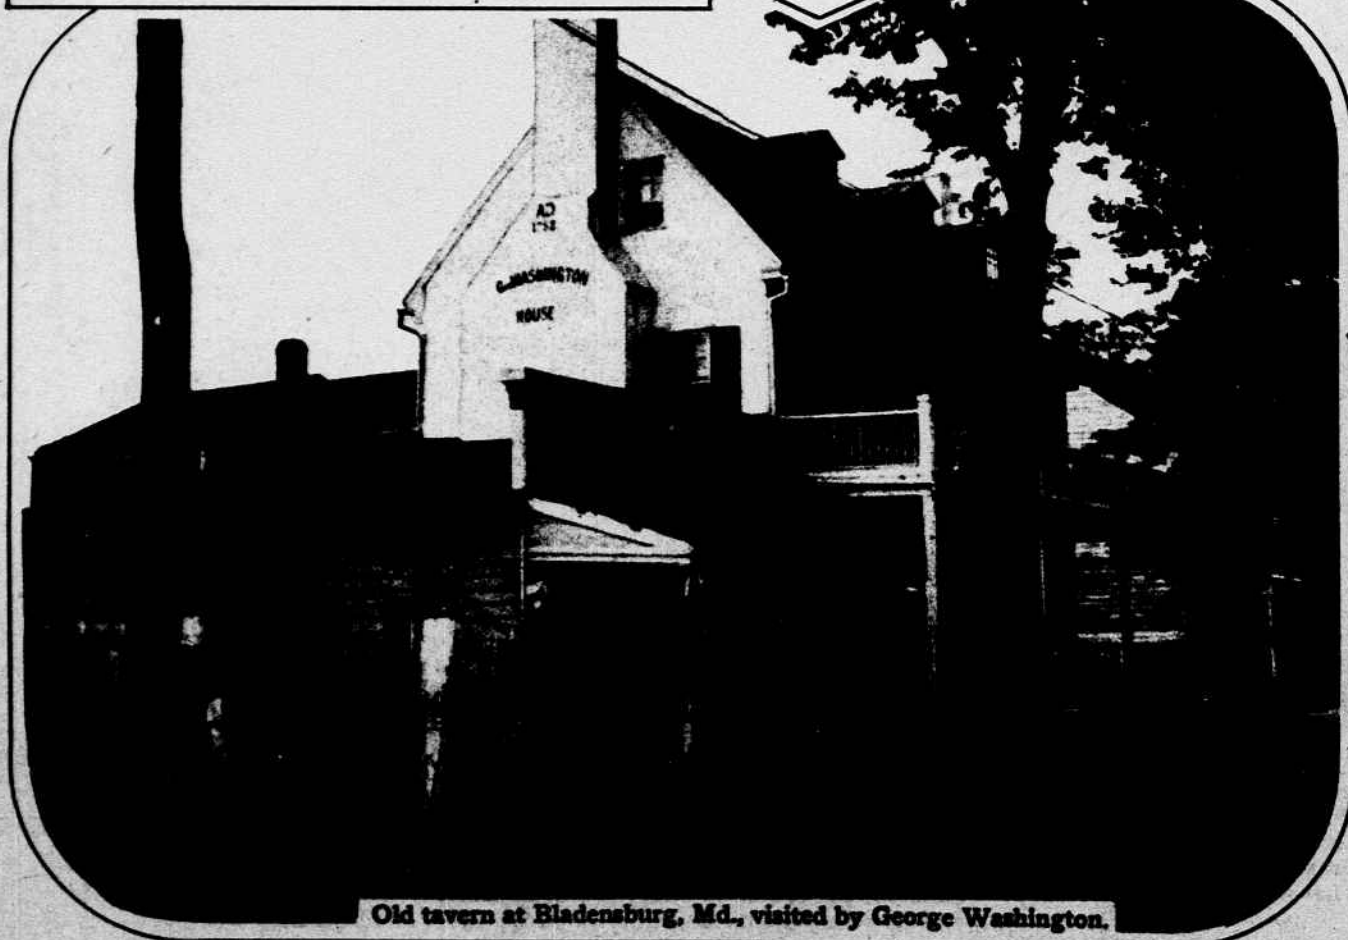

Interior of Fairfax Court House, Va., built in 1880. In the new clerk's office the will of Washington is treasured.

Washington's bedchamber clock and the original hour glass of the Alexandria-Washington Lodge. These lesser lights were used at Washington's funeral in 1799.

This is the cradle of George Washington.

Old tavern at Bladensburg, Md., visited by George Washington.

The tomb of Washington at Mount Vernon.